S. G. McTaggart To Speak On Re-Establishment Credits

Will Address Returned Veterans and Rehabilitation Committee in Council Chambers Next Monday at 7.30 p.m.

Coleman's returned veterans, as well as those in other Pass towns who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity, will be given the opportunity of hearing an address by S. G. McTaggart, of the Department of Veterans Affairs, Calgary office, in the council chambers next Monday evening at 7.30. Mr. McTaggart is coming to Coleman upon the invitation of Coleman's Reception and Rehabilitation Committee.

Mr. McTaggart is superintendent of Re-Establishment Credits Division and an able speaker. He will explain fully the subject "Re-Establishment Credits" and it will be to the advantage of all returned veterans to come to this particular meeting, listen to Mr. McTaggart and take advantage of the question period to ask questions on points they are not quite clear on.

President S. C. Short asks that all members of the Rehabilitation Committee attend this meeting in order to acquaint themselves on the subject of "Re-Establishment Credits."

WELSH NIGHT

Arrangements are being made by the executive committee of the Calgary St. David's Society to hold their annual banquet in St. Paul's United Church, Calgary, on March 1, at 7.30 p.m., when the ties that bind the people of the British Empire will be further strengthened.

The committee is arranging a program which will be infused with the Spirit of Glory that is Wales. Outstanding speakers, Welsh and English solo and community singing will bring back memories from the hills and dales of their native land.

R. A. Montalbetti is a Calgary business visitor this week.

RUSHING SPRING?

Town Foreman Joe Malanchuk and his crew are trying to rush spring. During the past few days they have been digging out frozen ditches to allow water from thawing snow and ice to escape and have been taking away several truckloads of snow and ice from the main street.

League Curling Drawing To A Close

Rypien and Vincent Lead Respective Section; Sectional Play-Offs to Start for League Trophies.

League play is fast drawing to an end and by Friday night practically all clubs will have finished their league games. The Rypien and Vincent rinks have shown strength throughout the season and as a result are setting the pace in their respective sections. Vincent has had it much his own way in section B, while during the past two weeks Rypien has found the going tougher than at any time during the entire season.

Standing of the rinks in the league are as follows:

Section A
Rink	Won	Lost
Rypien	9	3
Richards	8	3
Jenkins	8	4
Rinaldi	7	4
Kraywin	7	5

Pass Rinks Doing Well At Lethbridge

Pass rinks, consisting of Louis Maffioli, of Fernie; Jim Kerr, of Coleman; Frank Lamey, of Blairmore, and Bill Kerr, of Bellevue, appear to be doing exceptionally well at the Lethbridge shirt-sleeve bonspiel which is in play this week.

During the first day both the Kerr rinks and Maffioli played two games each and won both. Lamey played two and won one.

Bill Kerr played another game on Tuesday and won, making three for three. It is not known how the other Pass rinks made out on Tuesday's games as this news item is written.

Jim Kerr has George Jenkins, Sonny Richards and Bill Gate on his rink. Frank Lamey's rink is being skipped by Harry Boulton and in addition to Frank Lamey it has also Bob Pattinson as lead. Wilf. Dutil was supposed to be the fourth member of the rink, but had to call off at the last minute and it is not known whom Harry has for his fourth member.

To Plan Recreational Park; Council to Show More Aggressiveness Towards Having Dentist Locate Here

Parks Committee, Sport Association and Lions Committee to Meet to Discuss Park Beautification; Seek Early Appointment With Blackstock On Light and Water Problem.

Regular meeting of council was held on Monday evening. Present Mayor Aboussafy being officially sworn in as mayor and Mr. Wilson as councillor. Mr. Lowe will be sworn into office at the next meeting, having been absent on Monday evening.

Mayor Aboussafy, in submitting his committees for 1946, stated he was very pleased by the manner in which each committee had done the work allotted to it in 1945, and as a result he had decided to keep the same committees in 1946. He remarked that Councillor Dutil had been chairman of the Works and Property committee for the past five years and had done a grand job. It was the hardest worked committee in the council and it was the mayor's opinion that Mr. Dutil should be given some relief this year. It was decided that Adam Wilson be Councillor Dutil's right hand man and that a goodly portion of the work was to be placed on Mr. Wilson's shoulders and that Mr. Dutil would remain as chairman of the committee.

Correspondence was received from Mr. D. P. McDonald, town solicitor, revealing that he was endeavoring to have Mr. G. Blackstock, chairman of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, give the Coleman Light and Water matter an early hearing. A letter was received from Coleman Light and Water Co stating that the hydrant at the west end of Second street would be raised as soon as weather permitted. This particular hydrant had to be dug out of the snow and ice a few weeks ago by the fire brigade at a practice.

The Medical Health Officer's monthly report revealed that flu was prevalent. He stated that the sanitary condition of the town was gradually improving and advised that council authorize the ashpman to remove garbage first and ashes later.

The Returning Officer's report covering the recent municipal election was received and filed. Peter Ubina, at present barbering in Joe Colombo's building on main street, asked council to recommend him to the Department of Trade and Industry. He plans on moving to the premises recently vacated by the Artistic Beauty Shop next door to Modern Electric. Council will grant his request.

A gentleman has come into town with the W. T. Rawleigh agency and has secured his town business license. He asked council for a letter approving his opening business here.

Two young returned soldiers, George Bell, at present working at Bellevue and who recently came to the Pass, and Lou Audy, of Drumheller, are taking over the West End Service Station and asked for a town business license. They also contemplate having a B. A. sign erected close to the premises. Police chairman Fred Cox and Constable Antle will inspect the premises and direct where the sign may be erected. Constable Antle will issue the business license.

Mr. Percy Dickieson, of the Coleman Lions club and chairman of the Lions paddling pool committee, was present and asked council what plans it had towards Flummerfelt park. He revealed that the Lions had funds available for starting construction of the paddling pool for Coleman kiddies but first he would like to know just what was planned for the park as talk had it that the skating arena might soon be moved close to the curling arena. At Mayor Aboussafy's suggestion it was decided that within the next two weeks a meeting be held of the council's parks committee, the Sports Association and the Lions paddling pool committee and a full discussion take place on whether or not the skating rink will be moved. Should the rink not be moved the mayor suggested that an artist or engineer be authorized to make a drawing of the Park allotting section of the Park to various recreational facilities and that a long range program be started, each year some facilities being installed in the area allotted to it.

Considerable discussion took place regarding back alleys. There are some alleys where it is really hard for the ash truck to navigate. Alleys are supposed to be ten feet wide. It is claimed some are much narrower. It was suggested that where an alley is found too narrow council ask the residents to bring in their fences so that the alley would measure twelve feet thus giving the trucks ample clearance and give increased service to the property holders themselves. The matter will be further discussed with town solicitor Bannan. It is possible that alleys found too narrow will be re-surveyed.

Collins and Collins were re-appointed town auditors. John S. D'Appollonia was re-appointed town assessor.

A notice of motion was given that during the next regular meeting a notice will be made authorizing a six per cent penalty on all tax arrears.

Councillor Ramsay brought forth the suggestion that in the interests of increased safety the new fire truck be installed with dual wheels instead of single wheels. He pointed out that a savings could be made in having the dual wheels as two addition wheels could be secured for a little more than the price of a spare tire. He also pointed to the additional safety should one front wheel go flat one of the dual wheels could be quickly put in its place. Should one dual wheel go flat the other would be sufficient to carry the load and the fire truck would not need to stop on its way to a fire. Dual wheels were authorized to be placed on the truck which was expected to arrive at Sentinel Motors on Tuesday morning.

Council endorsed the letter sent Prime Minister King by the Nelson Board of Trade. A letter from council will now be sent the Prime

JOHN AND JIM KROESING LEAVE FOR NEW WESTMINSTER

John Kroesing, who has operated a draying business here for many years, and his nephew Jim Kroesing, recently back from overseas, left on Tuesday morning's train for New Westminster where they will reside. The two men have secured several acres of land and will go into the potato farming business.

Vice-President's Side To Pay For Banquet

MANY MILLIONS OF ACRES OF UNUSED LAND IN CANADA SUITABLE FOR AGRICULTURE

CHICAGO.—J. F. Booth, of Ottawa, Canadian agriculture authority, said there were in Canada, exclusive of areas in the Yukon and northwest Territories, 25,000,000 to 27,000,000 acres of unused and reasonably accessible land which would be suitable for agriculture.

Mr. Booth, associate director of marketing in the Canadian agriculture department, said it had been estimated these areas, which would be brought under cultivation only if Canada experienced a marked increase in population or greatly expanded markets, would provide from 158,000 to 168,000 farms, including irrigated units.

He made the observations in an address prepared for delivery before the conference on farm tenure in the United States, being held at the University of Chicago and attended by delegates from the British commonwealth and Europe.

The total land area of Canada was estimated at 3,465,556 square miles, of which 549,660 was occupied as agricultural land or had agricultural potentialities, Mr. Booth said.

He reviewed the development of farm land tenure in Canada and said mistakes had been made in allowing certain lands to be settled. Some extensive areas in eastern Canada should have been left in forests while some western lands now used for grain farming might better have been left to the cattle rancher.

"One of the problems in agriculture is the maintenance of adequate and competent farm help, he added.

"Adequate farm income will do much to meet this problem and to bring about a desirable balance between hired labor, renters and owners. But the provision of more satisfactory living and housing conditions for farm workers is also necessary. Credit now available may be used for that purpose but it may require some effort to acquaint farmers with what can be done."

Mr. Booth said Canada needed more soil and economic surveys to serve as a basis for rehabilitation and conservation programs, which in turn were essential to the development of a sound land and tenure policy.

FLOODS IN GERMANY

GELSENKIRCHEN, Germany.—Three thousand villagers in this Ruhr valley area were rendered homeless when the Ennsche river, a tributary of the Rhine, overflowed its banks. One man was drowned. British military government officials are assisting in rescue work.

DEIVE AGAINST OPIUM

CHUNGKING.—Dr. Donald Howard, United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration director of welfare services in China, pledged full U.N.R.R.A. support to an opium suppression drive in Tientsin, China. A recent check-up there disclosed more than 300,000 addicts.

THE U.N.O. SECURITY COUNCIL FOR SECOND TIME HAS THRUST ASIDE A SOVET COMPLAINT

LONDON.—The United Nations security council for the second time thrust aside a Soviet-backed complaint against British troops in foreign lands by refusing to send a five-power investigating commission to the Netherlands East Indies.

A week ago the council shelved a Russian request for intervention in Ceylon, where British forces also are stationed.

After the council had taken adverse action on three proposals to meet the Soviet Ukraine charge that British troops were being used to "suppress" a Nationalist movement in Indonesia, Canadian President Norman Makin of Australia suddenly announced that the matter "is closed."

With that the council took up Albania's application for admission to the United Nations, and after debate between Russia and Britain, voted eight to three to defer action until the United Nations meet in the United States.

During the debate over proposals for intervention in Indonesia, Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain declared his government had "not only resentment but stubborn opposition to anything of the kind." He said the honor of Britain was involved and, in effect, demanded that the Indonesian problem be dropped.

The question originally was brought before the council by the Ukraine, which, backed by Russia, proposed that a five-power commission be sent to investigate conditions and to "establish peace." Only Poland and Russia voted for the proposal.

The Ukrainian foreign minister, Dmitri Manuilskiy, was unable to

CREDIT EXTENDED

Canada Has Arranged Further Loan Of $100,000,000 To Netherlands
OTTAWA.—Finance Minister Isley announced Canada has extended another $100,000,000 credit to the Netherlands for the purchase of Canadian goods and foodstuffs in addition to $25,000,000 loaned under an agreement signed last year.

Mr. Isley announced the latest agreement was signed Feb. 5 by himself on behalf of the Canadian government and by J. W. M. Smuck Hurgronje, Netherlands minister to Canada, for the Netherlands government.

The loan was the second announced in four days. Mr. Isley disclosed the signing of an agreement under which Canada will extend $60,000,000 credit to China for similar purchases.

Mr. Isley said the amount loaned the Netherlands last year already has been used in the purchase of Canadian wheat and flour, trucks, frozen and canned beef, wood pulp, agricultural machinery, fertilizers and industrial machinery.

The second loan will be used to continue such purchases, as well as a variety of other products to assist in the Netherlands' rehabilitation program.

The new agreement consolidates the previous loan of $25,000,000 and the new loan of $100,000,000 into a single total and provides for the use of this money up to May 1, 1947.

H.B. ROUTE

Committee Of Five To Work On Utilization Of Northern Sea Outlet

SASKATOON.—Establishment of a committee of five to work toward the maximum utilization of the Hudson Bay route and equitable freight rates to and from Churchill was approved at an interprovincial conference here.

A statement issued said the decision was unanimously agreed upon by the delegates representing the three prairie provinces and the Hudson Bay route association board of directors.

The meeting recognized that trade was essential to the growth and development of the western economy and that transportation was a vital factor in the expansion of such trade. It recalled the house of commons had "pledged" itself at the last session to see that every effort was made to proceed vigorously for the development of the Hudson Bay route.

The committee, which will be composed of one representative of each of the three prairie governments and two from the H.B.R.A. will "study" all relevant factors and confer with the federal government with the object of insuring the maximum use of the Hudson's Bay route and the facilities at Churchill and to see "equitable and comparable" freight and insurance rates for Churchill are established.

IRRIGATION PLANS

Would Reclaim Many Acres Of Prairie Land

TORONTO.—John R. MacNicol, Progressive Conservative member of parliament for Toronto Davenport, said on his return from a trip to western Canada that irrigation would enable 3,000,000 acres of prairie land to be reclaimed and lead to the establishment of 40,000 new farms.

Work already has started on a dam at Spring Coulee on the St. Mary's river in southern Alberta, he said. The dam is expected to conserve 270,000 cubic feet of water there and about the same amount at Chin Coulee and Verdigris Coulee. That conservation, he said, would reclaim 300,000 acres in southern Alberta.

Shortage In Canada's Butter Stocks Made Ration Cut Necessary

EDMONTON.—Reduction of the butter ration from six to four ounces a person for March and April as announced at Ottawa is unavoidable, in the opinion of R. C. Smellie, of Russell, Man, president of the national dairy council of Canada.

Of the butter situation, Mr. Smellie said that probably there are not more than 15,000,000 pounds in the Dominion now. Consumption before the May flow starts will be from 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 pounds.

Consequently it is apparent that butter reserves will be depleted before May. As to reasons for the shortage of butter, Mr. Smellie said that while milk production had greatly increased since 1939, Canada had made large commitments, principally to Britain.

Production of condensed milk in Canada had increased by 430 per cent. from 1939 to 1944. Whole milk and powdered milk output had increased 228 per cent., factory cheese 45 per cent. and butter 11½ per cent.

NOT STANDING APART

Premier Drew Of Ontario Outlines Position On Dominion-Provincial Conference

LONDON.—Premier Drew of Ontario declared that Ontario "is not standing apart from the other provinces" and vigorously denied rumors that Ontario was taking an "isolationist" stand in the Dominion-provincial conference.

Addressing the 26th annual meeting of the western Ontario Progressive Conservative Association, Premier Drew attacked the Communist party as "a poisonous element in this country which it is no longer wise to ignore."

On the question of Dominion-provincial relations he said: "Progress has been made toward successful agreements between the Dominion and the provinces, and for that reason I am not going to discuss them in detail."

"We are not standing apart from the other provinces. Our position at the conference has been to place the Dominion and the provincial governments in the best possible position for one sound national economy."

PREPARATION URGED

Vancouver Senator Says Security Along North Pacific Coast Necessary

SEATTLE.—Senator Gerald G. McGeer, K.C., of Vancouver, said it was "ridiculous" for Canada and the United States to "make other nations strong at the expense of weakening ourselves."

He told a news conference the "next war" could be expected to be aimed from Asiatic Russia and China at the North American continent through Alaska, Yukon Territory, British Columbia and the state of Washington.

We urge that the Canadian and U.S. governments, jointly and immediately, "develop a real measure of security along the north Pacific coast... militarily and economically, with seaways, airways, highways and railways, and more population."

OTTAWA.—A heavy program of work will face members of parliament when they reconvene here March 14 for the second session of the 20th parliament, but the government is understood to be planning a summer adjournment to allow full Canadian representation at the peace conference in May.

A source in close touch with federal affairs said the government plans to suggest that the session adjourn at the end of May or by June 10 at the latest and reconvene in late August or early September.

He said also that cabinet changes likely would be announced before the opening of the session, with Justice Minister St. Laurent being given exclusive jurisdiction over the external affairs department, now headed by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Postmaster-General Bertrand was mentioned as a possible successor to Mr. Laurent as justice minister. There were reports, too, that Resources Minister Glen wished to resign that he might be replaced by Walter Tucker, parliamentary assistant to Veterans Minister Mackenzie King.

The source said Mr. King had come to the conclusion external affairs was developing into a full-time job and should be handled by a minister with that one portfolio. Canada never has had a separate ministry of external affairs.

Mr. St. Laurent went to the United Nations conference in San Francisco with Mr. King and recently headed the Canadian delegation to the UNO assembly in London. Although Mr. King has not yet indicated who will go to the peace conference for Canada, it is felt Mr. St. Laurent will be among those chosen.

Should the peace conference reach an agreement on peace terms for the German satellite states, it is possible the treaties will be submitted to the Canadian parliament when it reconvenes in the autumn.

Work left over from the sitting which ended last December is expected to take up some time.

A bill to establish a distinctive Canadian citizenship is among the matters earmarked for discussion at the coming session. A committee established to choose a design for a distinctive Canadian flag will resume its work but it is not known how long it may be before it makes a report to the commons.

The veterans affairs committee is to be reconstituted to continue the study of measures which will form part of the Canadian veterans' charter while the external affairs committee is expected to give further study to an extradition treaty with the United States.

DARK BREAD

WASHINGTON.—Americans may remain on their dark bread diet even longer than scheduled because of shrinking world wheat reserves, government officials indicated.

HALF THE WORLD'S POPULATION MAY BE FACED WITH FAMINE DUE TO THE SHORTAGE OF FOOD

LONDON.—Warning that 1,000,000,000 persons — half the world's population — may be faced with famine "due to a world-wide rice and China promised support of a shortage of 2,000,000 tons was placed before the United Nations general assembly in London by Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain.

Britons, facing added ration restrictions because of an acute food situation, learned that food minister Sir Ben Smith will survey consumption at public dinners and in hotels and restaurants in an effort to make more supplies available for household use.

In Ottawa the Canadian cabinet was understood to have discussed plans of renewal of long-term Canadian food contracts with Britain, may be asked to supply grain for most of which expire at the end of this year.

Mr. Bevin told the United Nations assembly, considering a resolution for world-wide wheat and rice conservation and distribution, that in addition to the rice shortage there was a wheat shortage of 5,000,000 tons.

"The rice position has the appearance of being worse than it was originally calculated," he said. "It might mean that within the next few months 1,000,000,000 of the world's population might be faced with famine."

Delegates from the United States and China promised support of a measure to relieve the situation. In Washington the United States agriculture department said supplies of such foods as sugar, butter, meat, canned fish, fats, rice and canned fruits will hardly be sufficient to satisfy total domestic demands.

The London food council unit of the combined food board, which represents the British commonwealth and empire exclusive of Canada will meet in London to study the food crisis and the available empire supplies of grain in Canada, which sits on the food board in Washington. It may be asked to supply grain for most of which expire at the end of this year.

TRUCKS FOR AUSTRIA

VIENNA.—A consignment of 160 surplus Canadian army trucks, still in their original crates, have been shipped from Britain to Austria as the first instalment of United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration supplies destined to aid Austrian recovery, it was announced. Altogether 1,000 Canadian trucks are coming to Austria.

Alberta Can Go Ahead--But Only On Good Roads

With the certainty that motor transportation will develop ever greater importance to our economy in the coming years, it is more than ever vital to Alberta's prosperity that a good system of modern highways and good secondary roads be provided.

The Alberta Department of Public Works has planned such a highway program. It is important that this plan be put into effect without delay. Bring it to the attention of your friends and neighbors and any groups to which you belong. Press your provincial member for action.

The Alberta Motor Association—a non-profit organization devoted to the interests of motorists whether commercial or private—has pressed unceasingly for an adequate road-building program. By becoming a member of this active group, you not only add your influence to its efforts, but also become entitled to many valuable services—for only $10 a year. Your nearest branch in Calgary, Edmonton or Lethbridge will provide full information on request.—Advt.

Coleman Lions heard a most interesting address on housing by one of its members, Joe D'Appolonia, on Monday evening.

The speaker is very well versed on the subject, and described the home that most citizens dwell in today as outmoded. He dealt chiefly with the modern home that the moderate wage-earner could afford. He dealt at length with the modern kitchen, there being three standard designs, all of which were liked by the modern housewife due to their compactness.

He stated that anyone desiring to build a home should first give it a lot of study, incorporating their own ideas into it and also practical suggestions given by the architect.

Pre-fabricated homes had a good future, although at the present time their development had not advanced to the point where they had eliminated the house that had to be built board by board. It was his firm conviction, however, that within a few years a prospective home owner would go to a contractor or lumber yard and pick out the home he desired among the many pre-fabricated homes on display.

BANKING IN ACTION

The Canadian Bank of Commerce has loaned millions of dollars to farmers through the years of expanding frontiers. Throughout Canada it has applied Banking in Action to help build this nation's thriving dairy and livestock industry.

FLOURISHING FIELDS OF GRAIN—fat livestock, fruitful dairy herds and flocks—cereals, meats, milk, cheese, butter, eggs; the food of a nation and the hopes of starving peoples abroad; thriving communities, dependent for their welfare on the farmer—all these things flow from Canada's Agricultural Industry. Water Works Wonders IN ALBERTA

There are garden areas in Alberta now producing abundant and profitable crops, which for many years were the scene of devastating droughts that brought loss and hardship to the settlers.

Water has wrought this miracle. Irrigation of the soil has not only given an assured and abundant yield of vegetables, sugar beets, fruits, fodder and other crops—besides raising fine livestock—but has given rise to thriving industries including canning plants and the Southern Alberta sugar industry.

Prosperity is contagious. Not only do these irrigation districts maintain a larger and more prosperous farm population but they have promoted a corresponding increase in the population of the towns that serve them. The benefits of this prosperity extend to transportation and commercial interests, to the municipalities, the province, and the dominion.

If recommendations of the Alberta Post-War Reconstruction Committee on Agriculture for extension of irrigation projects are carried out, the new irrigation areas will provide nearly 10,000 farms that should maintain a prosperous farm population of about 50,000 persons, and increase urban population by possibly 30,000.

This way lie progress and prosperity for our province. With courageous and intelligent development, we can make Alberta a land of greater abundance for all our people.

Who Wants To Go Back To Candles?

The ladies sometimes like the dim, flattering light of candles. But most people, even if they could get far greater illumination from candles at far less cost, would prefer electric light.

Considerations of health, comfort, convenience, cleanliness and safety, have become more important to the modern way of life than the factor of cost.

Nevertheless, it costs money to survey new power sites, harness waterfalls, and build transmission lines, so that when you flick a switch or set a thermostat you can be sure of light and heat at your fingertips. Quite possibly a part of your own Life Insurance premium has been invested in the public utilities which render these services.

Government supervision of all such investments safeguards the money laid away by more than four million thrifty policyholders, united for their common security in the great co-operative business of Life Insurance.

This portion of every dollar invested out of Life Insurance funds helps to finance thousands of building and transportation projects, public utilities, industries, etc., which create employment throughout the country. The remainder is in municipal bonds, farm and town mortgages, etc. In addition, $500,000 is paid out in direct benefits every working day to policyholders or their loved ones.

Artistic Talent

New Viceroy's Paintings Will Be Shown in London

Field Marshal Alexander's talents as an artist will come under the examination of London critics when the Royal Institute of Oil Painters opens an exhibition in London shortly. Two of the Canadian governor-general-designate's landscapes will be on display.

One is a large scene on the north-west frontier of India while the other, a smaller canvas strikingly in contrast, shows English vegetable gardens.

Friends of the field marshal say he has better than average talent but that he is modest about showing his work and was persuaded with difficulty to enter the pictures in the exhibition.

Another prominent Briton who paints in his spare time is Winston Churchill, leader of the Conservative opposition and former prime minister. Recently reproductions of Mr. Churchill's best paintings were carried in a United States picture magazine (Life).

Seed Production

Several Factors Enter Into This Matter, We Are Told

Among the important factors in the production of good seed are climate, choice and maintenance of a suitable seed stock, multiplication of stocks under conditions which will safeguard their purity, and the skillful use of methods and aids to more efficient production. These and many other facts concerning the production of seed for the food processing industry were included in an address by A. N. D. Butler, Plant Products Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, to the annual Joint-Processor Convention held recently in Toronto.

With reference to climate, it was true, he said, that seed of most kinds and varieties of vegetable crops could be produced in Ontario, but that did not mean that seed of all kinds could be produced economically in the province, or in Canada for that matter, nor did it follow that good seed could be produced even in those areas where any kind of crop produced seed freely. Generally there was a reason why seed was produced in a given area often removed by thousands of miles from where it was ultimately used.

Take, for example, the pea seed production areas of Canada. The Fraser Valley of British Columbia was for many years a heavy producer of pea seed. Today pea seed production in that area was almost nil because the mild climate was favourable to the pea moth which had rendered pea seed production unprofitable, if at all possible.

Southern Ontario until recent years produced all or most of its pea seed requirements. Even today substantial quantities were produced there, but since 1934 an increasing quantity had been multiplied in Western Canada, particularly in Alberta and in the interior of British Columbia. The increase of pea production on the irrigated lands of Southern Alberta and British Columbia had been very great, not because the climate was especially favourable for the production of peas but because the absence of rainfall in those arid areas which was free or relatively free from seed borne diseases. For successful production in these areas the peas must be planted early and the crop must be matured before the time when continuous hot days and nights cause the pea crop to mature. In Southern Alberta, most peas are grown on soil which has been in alfalfa sod for three or four years. This added fertility, together with the fact that the pea weevil had not yet become a factor in that area, usually resulted in high crops being harvested. Varietal soil preference was also a factor recognized by experienced growers in the area. More recently, the production of pea seed had developed in Saskatchewan but time would tell whether production in that area would survive.

Should Be Checked

Too Many Christmas Trees Are Cut And Then Burned

The production and merchandising of Christmas trees is a legitimate business which deserves recognition, just as does trade in any line of consumer goods. Fundamentally it is sound, but Christmas trees once cut are a perishable commodity. After December 25 they have no value whatever. Merchants and distributors have failed to recognize this truth. They become so reckless in their dealings that immense numbers of unsold Christmas trees are burned in and around large cities. This waste is really criminal. It is unregulated, irrational competition that deals themselves most correct or the Government will be obliged to take action.

Christmas trees should be made available to all who want them, at a reasonable price, but we must not go on burning up in huge bonfires the trees that Canada needs so much—Farmer's Advocate.

From Yellowknife

Famous Prospector Owes Some Of The Richest Claims

Canada's prospectors like to find gold on their diamond drills, but they don't worry too much about keeping it in their pockets.

And most of them are mildly amused at all the "tenderfoot" excitement generated both in Canada and the United States by the northlander's current gold-rush.

Take puckish, gentle-faced Andy Hay, famous throughout the Northwest for his personal integrity and complete honesty. Hay, 49, a native of Great Falls, Mont., owns some of the richest claims in the Yellowknife goldfields north of Edmonton, but he isn't particularly excited about it.

Friends whisper that he has made over $300,000 during the past three or four months, but Hay still sits around in Toronto's King Edward Hotel talking as quietly as if he didn't have a dime in his pockets.

"Sometimes I sit up there in Yellowknife on a doorstep that's made of almost pure silver," Hay said, "and you know what I think about most? A nice ham sandwich."

Hay said up in the Yellowknife country a man can kill a rabbit with rocks made of pure copper, and mine his fingernails with a silver of genuine gold.

Hay worked with American Army engineers during the war. He led the first survey party through the northern wastes in connection with the eastern division of the Alcan highway.

In 1939 he was lost for 11 months alone in the Arctic. A pilot had flown him in and was scheduled to return within a few weeks to pick him up. But the pilot died upon returning to base before he was able to tell anyone where he had left Andy. The gray-haired prospector lived off the bush for almost an entire year, until another plane finally located him. His voice dropped to a whisper and it took several days of civilization before he could shout again.

During the months he lived off the country he never had to kill even one of his dogs for food.

He's prouder of that feat than he would be if he found the largest mine in Canada.

Hay, a long-time bachelor, was married in Toronto to Florence Dodman, who also comes from the north country around Great Slave Lake.

WAKE UP, CANADA!

One item in Canada's Second Great War history which citizens of this country have no reason to be proud is summed up in an official statement as follows: "357,634 Canadians of military age—rejected in the National Selective Service mobilization campaign as unsuitable for army service anywhere in any capacity."

Any thoughtful Canadian must be stunned by this record. The fact that 357,634 out of the 1,200,852 called up were unfit is a staggering fact. This surely must be a mighty blow to Canada's national pride. And, it might be pertinent to ask how long a nation can survive if decade after decade it fails to provide the healthful conditions and training necessary to develop a physically fit people.

If it is money that blinds the nation to the situation, it should be noted that the cost of establishing national health services everywhere in the country would be but a mere fraction of the amounts now being wasted in attempts to take care of illness which should have been prevented.

Sickness—much of it preventable—and untimely deaths in Canada are estimated to be costing at least one billion dollars a year. Canadians should wake up to the fact that something should be done—and done quickly.

Wake up, Canada! In their efforts to make the nation healthy, health department administrators need the whole-hearted support of public opinion. To help mould public opinion, the Health League of Canada has designated the week of February 3 as "Health Week". This observance is designed to make known the facts about the state of the nation's health, and to make known what can be done immediately to remedy some obvious defects.

"Health Week" is sponsored by the Health League in co-operation with federal and provincial health departments and provincial education departments.

Viscount Alexander is able to wear his ribbons in six rows but Field Marshal Montgomery's 12 British and 10 foreign awards take up eight rows and his battle-dress has been altered to accommodate them.

Bomb Test

Scientist Suggests A Typical American City Would Do

Dr. David Inglis, an atomic bomb scientist, has called for a bomb test on a typical American city to map the public out of its "ethargy of thought."

If this is impossible, he said, a complete city of concrete and steel, including bridges and skyscrapers, should be built in the desert for the experiment.

Inglis said he believed this would bring home to the people the terrible destructive power with which we are dealing. Afterward, he said, the city could be preserved as a sort of monument.

He recently returned as associate professor of physics at Johns Hopkins University after working on the Manhattan bomb project for three years. He said the atom bomb tests on ships would be of little value.

Naval vessels are built of steel with stresses and strains carefully studied, he explained. They are built to withstand storms and high explosive attack. They float in water, providing a cushion against attack.

"We certainly have as many obsolete cities as we have obsolete ships, if it is an atom war we're thinking about," he said.

Inglis said he was "shocked" that the public seemed to believe that Hiroshima and Nagasaki were only cities built of wood and paper. Actually even New York city is not safe, he said.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

The Blizzard's Flame

By THELMA GARDNER

Copyright Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

IT'S strange how things happen. You feel that sometime, somewhere, you have done just the same thing you are doing now, and, yet, you cannot quite remember. Again, an evasive thought teases you. You try to retain it but it slips away. You are left with a feeling of frustration.

Today is grey, bleak and bitter, and the shrieking wind hammers angry fists on doors and windows, defying one to step outdoors.

Anyway, I decided to do some washing in the basement, which kept me busy till lunch time. After that, I hung the clothes out despite the wind, and they were twisted and knotted about the line in a few minutes. While I was battling with wet sheets, there came a knock on the door.

A small boy said: "Here's your weekly paper, ma'am." So I dropped a coin in the expectant hand, and idly flipped the pages. I had no intentions of leaving the washing on the line any longer, but a picture in the paper held my attention.

It showed a slim, young woman in a red coat and hat, ailing an old gentleman, who seemed overcome by fatigue and cold in a wild blizzard.

It was only a short story, and I stopped then and there to read it.

Then it all came back to me. It was more than a story of fiction, for I remember the pictures carried headlines about the little waitress and the millionaire who suffered from amnesia.

The newspapers told how the old gentleman had suffered from one of his spells, and unknown to his family, had dined his favorite, oldest clothes and disappeared into the blizzard-swept night.

Despite the police, who had been notified of his absence and had started a quiet search, he returned alone the next afternoon untroubled as he had left, and could tell nothing about his absence.

According to the papers many months passed before he started to piece together events of that night. He remembered being horribly cold, and how the wind threw icy snow in his face, and tripped his faltering footsteps. He felt he could not go on any farther, when a young woman came to him out of the storm. He said she reminded him then, of a flame, slim and so bright, in her little red coat and hat, and so warmly generous.

She took his trembling elbow and guided him off the black, storm-swept streets, into a shabby, warm apartment. She spoke gently to him. Removed his damp outer clothing, and wet socks and shoes. She wrapped him in a rough blanket and made him sit by the old black stove, and she fed him, just as though he were a derelict. She chafed his cold hands, in her sun warm ones. There had been a child, too, delicious with fever. Yes, he remembered there had been a sick child, and poverty.

When he died, the papers said he had left her a large sum of money. But no one knew who she was, or where she might live.

But I did! I remember the shabby apartment where she lived, and the sick child. And I know what happened to them.

Her name was Marion Brown, and she had married Roger Morgan Brown, a wealthy young man, who was gay and charming, until the crash in '29 took all he had. His father's suicide over financial worries, was the last bitter blow, and Roger, who was trying to support Marion in a little flat, spent what little he earned, trying to drown his sorrows.

He had done that on many occasions, which had caused Marion to be desperately unhappy, despite her deep love for him. Life had been made too easy for him, and he didn't like responsibility and worry and above all, poverty. That's when he walked out of the little flat. He just couldn't take it.

Marion had been better equipped to handle life. She put her chin up a

Illustrated by Geoff Taitner.

She could have been happy with her child and Roger had he been a stronger man.

He was a little higher and carried on, for the baby's sake.

I remember how she brushed and pressed the red coat to neatness, and carefully stitched the threadrun spots. She had never wanted riches, knowing the unhappiness and worry caused by having too much. She could have been superbly happy with the child and Roger, had he been a stronger man!

When the child took sick she was desperate with worry. Her courage had almost deserted, as she struggled through that awful blizzard in search of a drugstore. That's when she had come over the old gentleman, and the very fact that he needed help, gave her renewed strength.

She never did know who he was until the papers carried the news of his death, and the strange request in his will, that his little girl, of the storm be found and rewarded.

Marion Brown never made herself known, for just at that time Roger returned from the west coast. A new Roger, filled with a zest for living, and adapted to responsibilities and hard work. The months of privation and loneliness were swept away in his hungry, strong arms. Nothing mattered but that they were all together again. Roger, without wealth, had become a new man.

Marion gathered up the papers about the eccentric old millionaire who wanted a kind little waitress to have some of his wealth, and burned them in the kitchen stove.

Wealth! Her kind of wealth did not come in dollars and cents. It came in being with Roger again, and having the child healthy and happy.

Yes, it's strange how memory plays tricks. Just feeling the cruel strength of the wind today reminded me of that blizzard fifteen years ago.

I am forty-seven years old now, and my hair is scratched with grey. I think I may as well dispose of that old red hat and coat in the trunk, for I'll never wear them again.

GOLD IN THE NORTH

Prospectors Have Staked Oil Claims On A New Discovery

An Alaskan highway truck driver's discovery of gold in the Muncho lake area has touched off a trek to the new-found goldfields that even United States army "red tape" failed to halt.

A party of rugged, gold-seeking Fort St. John prospectors, despite many difficulties, have reached the scene and staked out some 16 groups of claims.

The "find" was made during construction of the highway.

Word of the "find" recently reached Fort St. John and a party of prospectors made plans to travel up the highway to the new goldfield. However, United States army authorities in Edmonton refused to give them permission to travel up the highway until April 1.

Undaunted, the prospectors appealed to Inspector H. H. Cronkite, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

After inspecting their equipment and having found them to be well supplied, Inspector Cronkite himself a veteran of the wild Yukon gold days, authorized the trek.

SMILE AWHILE

Tom: "My father was a great western politician in his day."

Thumb: "What did he run for?"

Tom: "The border."

Why do those lightning regulations worry you so much?

"Formerly I could not find the keyhole. Now I can't find the house."

Judge: "How do you know this man was drunk last night?"

Constable: "Well, I found him in the club hallway with a can, waving the flowers in the linoleum."

Damsel: "You're a sailor. Have you ever been boarded by pirates?"

Naval Officer: "Yes, I spent last leave at a seaside hotel."

"Your husband seems to be a man of rare gifts."

"I'll say he is—he hasn't given me one since we were married."

Something went wrong in the Cookhouse and the pie-erust was as hard as a brick. The mess wag sent it back with a message:

"Give us the facts and we'll finish the job!"

The class composition was about "Kings". One boy wrote this: "The most powerful king on earth is Working; the laziest, Shir-king; the wittiest, Joking; the quietest, Think-king; the thirstiest, Drink-king; the shiest, Wink-king; and the naiciest, Tal-king."

Sergeant: "If you could shoot as well as you eat you'd be O.K."

Recruit: "Well, I've only had this gun a fortnight, but I've been practising eating for 36 years."

Aunt: "Clara says she is 28, does she? She isn't a day under 35."

Niece: "Perhaps she has been marked down for a matrimonial bargain, aunt!"

Friend: "You had a very fashionable audience, hadn't you?"

Planist: "Yes—at one time there was not a single person in the room who was listening."

"Come, now, Arthur, didn't your conscience tell you it was wrong to help yourself to these larks?"

"Well, it did, but it didn't sound convincing, Mummie!"

To Honor Roosevelt

Proposal For Erection Of A National Memorial In London

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, guest of honor at the Pilgrim's Banquet in London, heard a proposal for the erection of a national memorial in London to her late husband.

A letter from the Earl of Derby, absent president of the society—founded more than half a century ago to foster Anglo-American friendship—suggested the building of such a memorial to the late President Roosevelt and asked Mrs. Roosevelt to return to London to unveil it.

Viscount Greenwood, a native of Canada, who presided, told Mrs. Roosevelt: "Every Pilgrim will follow the lead of our noble president in commemorating your distinguished husband."

He paid tribute to the wartime leadership of Winston Churchill, former British Prime Minister; the late President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Mackenzie King and recalled that the mothers of all were born in the United States.

State Secretary, Hon. Paul Martin represented Canada: at the banquet.

Will Keep It Secret

British Textile Scientists Have Process For Printing Sheer Nylon

The London Daily Sketch reported that British textile scientists have discovered a much-sought process for printing sheer nylon in any pattern or color and declared the process will remain secret and not be able to foreign firms.

This will mean that "the major part of the world's nylon production will have to pass through British factories to be printed," the newspaper added.
